

Bogey Corner: Ok, here you are, looking at two feet of fringe and four feet of luscious green with a shot at making birdie on this very difficult par 4. The only thing between you and that green is, you guessed it, duck poop. I could call it a lot of things but for this inclusion I will refer to it as duck poop. What do you do? Can you brush away the larger pile and putt over the smaller chunks? Is it a movable object or would you consider it as a loose impediment? Is poop from a Canadian Goose considered a foreign object? Well folks, pick away. Duck poop or dung as it's referred to in the rule book is considered a loose impediment. You are allowed to remove loose impediments from the area around your ball as long as you are not in a bunker, which is our case here. Just be careful, some duck poop is.....let's just say fresher and harder to pick up.
