

Opening Day! (or, Starting Over)

Summer is gone. Not officially, but it is on the SGL Calendar. The 2019-20 season has arrived!

If you had a crappy '18-'19 season (like your intrepid reporter), it's like a new nine. Everyone is back to 0 points in the race for the Albrecht Cup.

And what better way to kick it off than with a Double Points round at Troon North's Pinnacle course, which remains in Golf Magazine's top 100 public venues, the highest rating of any such course in Arizona.

This one is a rare 2:00 PM shotgun start. Pace of play will be at a premium, as too dark to play is arriving just short of about 7:00 right now.

Target golf at its finest. The 10th at Troon North (Pinnacle)

Two Days on the Mountain

We bridged our Summer and Fall seasons with a rare two-day event on a single course last weekend at Dove Mountain in Marana. Thirty-four players took part in the Saturday round, and 27 stayed over to play on Sunday, as well.

The course was the stingiest of our year, yielding just 12 birdies on Saturday and 16 on Sunday, although there were two eagles. Bret Goers picked one up on the 11th hole, and Adam Labbe the 4th.

Some other interesting stats:

- It took 24 putts to win low on Saturday, but just 31 on Sunday
- The top two-day money was Prag Shah with a total of $130, helped out by winning CTPs on both days
- Best Sunday Comeback goes to Ryan Stephens, who was 35 strokes better in the second round. Honorable to mention to Mike Trout, who improved by 25
